

Understanding Shelbourne Reynolds Serial Numbers

The serial number on Shelbourne Reynolds Stripper Heads can be found on the back right hand or left hand side of the machine, it is very important to have the serial number available when ordering parts.

6 Digit Serial Numbers 1990 - 1999

584123

Above is an example of a Shelbourne Reynolds serial number, the first digit would be the year of manufacture (1995), the second and third digit would be the size of the machine in meters (8.4m, 28') the fourth, five and sixth digit would be random factory build numbers.

More Examples

160397 1991 6.0m, 20'

972869 1999 7.2m, 24'

7 Digit Serial Numbers 2000 - 2009

1233248

Above is an example of a Shelbourne Reynolds serial number, the first, second and third digits are random factory build numbers, the fourth and fifth digits would be the size of the machine in feet (32'), the sixth digit is a factory machine type number and the seventh is the year of manufacture (2008).

More Examples

6822441 2001 24'

2122843 2003 28'

11 Digit Serial Numbers 2010 +

CVS32100056

Above is an example of a Shelbourne Reynolds serial number, the first, second and third letters show what type of machine it is, the fourth and fifth digits would be the size of the machine in feet (32'), the sixth and seventh numbers show the year of manufacture (2010), the eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh digits are the factory build numbers.

More Examples

RSD24110110 RSD 24' 2011 0110

CVS28141234 CVS 28' 2014 1234

XCV42198964 XCV 42' 2019 8964